Google has closed an agreement for Squarespace, Inc. to acquire all domain name registrations from Google Domains. Squarespace is the registrar of record for your domain and the Squarespace's Terms of Service apply to your domain; however, Google will manage your domain during a transition period. Following a transition period your domain will be transitioned to Squarespace, and upon transfer, your data will be governed by Squarespace's Privacy Policy. Learn more about the agreement.

Please find information on right of withdrawal and legal guarantee in the attached Google Domains Terms of Service.
